

The Energy Fair
Clean energy & sustainable living

See you at the Fair!

Each year the MREA Energy Fair transforms rural Central Wisconsin into the global hot spot for renewable energy education. The Energy Fair brings over 20,000 people from nearly every state in the U.S. and several countries around the world to learn, connect with others and ready them for action at home. The Energy Fair is the nation's longest running energy education event of its kind.

The Energy Fair features:

- Over 275 exhibitors - sustainable living and energy products
- Over 200 workshops - from introductory level to advanced hands-on education
- Clean Energy Car Show - demonstration vehicles and workshops
- Green Home Pavilion - focused on building and remodeling in a sustainable way
- Green Building Demos - see sustainable building techniques in action
- Sustainable Tables - workshops, chef demos, and a farmers' market bringing sustainability to your dinner table
- Inspirational keynotes, lively entertainment, great food, and local beer.

The Energy Fair is held in Custer, WI just seven miles east of Stevens Point. Join us for the 21st Annual Energy Fair June 18-20, 2010. For more information about the Fair, contact the Midwest Renewable Energy Association at 715-592-6595 or www.the-mrea.org.
